

ABOUT JACKSON HEALTHCARE

Founded by healthcare pioneer Richard L. Jackson, Jackson Healthcare (JH) addresses the two biggest challenges facing healthcare today: Finding the right people and delivering the right information at the right time. The JH family of companies provides clinician staffing, anesthesia management and healthcare information technology solutions proven to improve clinical and financial outcomes and increase operational efficiency.

Between its founding in 2000 and year-end 2005, Jackson Healthcare achieved total revenue growth of 622%, with average annualized organic revenue growth of nearly 50%. With 305-percent total revenue growth and 76.2-percent average annual revenue growth between 2000 and 2003, the company joined the "Inc. 500," Inc. magazine's list of the 500 fastest-growing private U.S. companies in 2004. Jackson Healthcare has experienced a compound annual growth rate of 53% from 2000-2007. Jackson Healthcare placed 48th of all health companies on the list of Inc 5000 fastest growing private companies in 2008. Based on an independent survey of JH associates, Atlanta Business Chronicle named JH one of Atlanta's "Best Companies to Work For" in 2007 and 2008. The company made the Chronicle's list of "Pacesetters," Atlanta's "Top Private Companies" in 2005, 2006 and 2007.
